

Halifax Seed Donation Policy

Throughout our history, Halifax Seed has actively participated in and supported many community organizations. Halifax Seed is committed to helping organizations that provide outreach and have a direct impact on youth and marginalized populations in our North End community. We enjoy partnerships with organizations involved in community gardening or garden education. Halifax Seed aids by supporting organizations with gift cards, garden seed and retail products for auctions, prizes and special events.

Halifax Seed considers all donation requests however, due to the large volume of donation requests we receive, a budget for donations is in place and we are not able to fulfill all requests.

When submitting your request:

- Please submit your application early. A minimum of 2 weeks prior to when the donation is required. Please direct all donation requests to Emily Tregunno.
- Give us as much information about your organization and event as possible. Clearly explain the nature and purpose of your event so we can determine an appropriate donation; such as who will the event help, where are funds raised from the event directed to, etc. The request should come on organization letterhead.
- Please give us one point of contact for your fundraising activities. While we appreciate the amount of effort and organization it takes to run a successful fundraiser, having multiple people make separate donation request for a single event adds confusion.
- Please understand that previous donations to the charity for which you are raising funds or hosting an event for is a part of the consideration process. While this may be the first time you have reached out to Halifax Seed, others may have already made requests and we may have already made several donations to the same cause.

While we wish we could help all organizations, please appreciate that we receive a large number of requests and are unable to donate to everyone. Halifax Seed wishes you every success with your event!
